

SUNDAYS OF MEETING EACH OTHER, PLAYING, EATING AND SHARING STRUGGLE

between the ones coming from below in Thessaloniki and the whole world, at the Restaurant of the Aristotle University of Thessaloniki

WE START FROM MEETING EACH OTHER

Because socially constructed isolation, loneliness and abandonment lead to despair, sorrow and giving up. We'll continue to talk for those things as well. Because whatever has ever inspired us and made us breath, exists only because we created it together and we shared it. Because the feeling of happiness is real only when it is collective.

WE START FROM PLAYING

Because the culture of enclosures and fear is depressing. Because if we forget to play, we'll already be dead. Because for us, the matter of liberation, has nothing to do with building resilient walls between us, but it is instead about relearning to bring our worlds close to one another without hurting each other. Because we want to explore a new emotional education founded on being emotionally touched and co-moved.

WE START FROM FOOD

Because none of us has chosen to work for "hunger salaries" which force them to work 12 hours a day and have no free time, just to earn the very basics. Because financial sparsity is not a personal choice, but it is produced by the class society. Because we will not leave anyone of us alone, having to bend and say "thank you" to any kind of breadlines or charity organizations. Because eating together while sharing the same table is joy, intercultural enrichment, is a view for the world we want to live in, is a position of fighting against any kind of bigotry, elitism and corporative logic of struggle.

WE START FROM STRUGGLE

Because we do not forget the thousands of hours that have been stolen from us at the school desks, at the auditoriums, at the workplaces so that the bosses get richer from our creativity, the everyday gender based oppressions and the fear we feel as women when we walk alone in the street during the night, that our fellow human beings and our relatives are burnt alive in hot spots, are getting drown in the seas and are being beaten and stabbed, their only crime being that they have the desire for a better life while not being

European citizens. Because we do not forget the innumerable smaller and bigger moments of violence of capitalism, patriarchy, heteronormativity, nationalism and statism. Because contrary to every "divide and rule" practice of the people in power, we shall continue to show solidarity with each other and plan, while eating together, ways and strategies to overcome this world.

WE CONTINUE ALL TOGETHER, locals and immigrants, precarious and more stable workers, university and high-school students, jobless people, students of post-high school vocational education, refugees, LGBTIQ+ people, human beings that experience exclusion, exploitation, oppression...

WE ARE THE ONES WHO will meet each other, play, eat together, share experiences and plans of struggle. The ones that, against all the artificial and constructed divisions and exclusions that the power structure attempts to impose on us, we will continue to transform the restaurant/café of the Aristotle University of Thessaloniki into a place where we can dream and live together.
